

Membership Terms

Membership runs from the beginning of the month you nominate unless otherwise agreed. It is valid until the end of the following September.

Membership is paid annually.

Should you change your mind, membership can be cancelled during the 14 days cooling off period following the start of the membership.

If you are a direct member and you cancel your membership during the cooling off period, your refund is subject to the deduction of any costs paid out by the club such as your insurance contribution and fees for first month and a small admin fee.

If you are an AGB member and you cancel your membership during the cooling off period your refund is subject to the deduction of Archery GB, BAA, SCAS and club fees for the first month. You will retain membership for AGB, BAA & SCAS for the remainder of the membership period, these are not refundable.

The club reserve the right to cancel membership for any member at any time during the membership period. (This would be in the event of serious misdemeanour, either immediately or following the club disciplinary procedure (pending on the severity of the behaviour).) Cancellation of membership by the club will be without refund.

Membership is subject to archers' acceptance of and adhering to club and AGB policies and practices.
